"It's Hard To Break Habits"

LONDON (AP) - For six years Mrs. Margaret Lingham-French took husband John his morning cup of tea in bed. She was still doing it this morning though they were divorced nine days ago.

"It's hard to break the habits of six years of marriage," explained Mrs. Lingham-French, dark-haired and 36. Even though we are divorced, still cook his meals and do the washing up. And when I've done the washing up, I'll be darning his socks."

Mrs. Lingham-French won her divorce on the ground of cruelty and moved into another bedroom. But she can't move out of the house because she hasn't yet found an apartment she can afford on the 5 pounds $14 a week he agreed to give her for herself and their three children, Margaret 5, Hillary 1, and Katrina 2.

CARLISLE GETS GRID TROPHY: OK SCHEDULES

Presentation of the South Penn Conference football championship trophy for 1958 to Carlisle highlighted the winter meeting of the conference Wednesday evening at the Country House, New Kingston.

Ken Millen, Carlisle Coach, received the trophy from Prof. Guile W. Lefever, Gettysburg, league president, who presided at the meeting. It was the fifth straight year Carlisle has received a trophy emblematic of the football crown.

Gettysburg College's track field was set as the tentative site for the annual conference meet next spring and Saturday, May 9, was set as the date.

Approval was given the 1959 baseball and football schedules and the 1959-60 basketball pro-

Changes Due

There will be no change in football opponents next year but, Mechanicsburg, Middletown and Hershey will not compete in basketball next year. Those teams have joined the newly formed Capital Area Conference and will soon sever all South Penn Conference relations.

Biglerville and West Shore will compete in basketball next year and will start football competition in 1961. Both schools were admitted to the conference recently. Another conference meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, March 4, at Carlisle. In addition to Prof. Lefever, Gettysburg High School was represented at the meeting by George Forney, athletic director, and Ben Jones, football coach. Biglerville was represented by Bernard Thrush, athletic director, and Rodick Laird, public relations rep-elect David L. Lawrence, Sen. fields. Joseph Clark (D-Pa), and others were unable to attend, but sent telegrams of congratulations.

"Les," as he is known by his co-workers and the officials, said he was "very deeply touched" that so many made long journeys despite snow and rain.

"I know that working newspapermen are a pretty cynical group and I never thought that you people would ever do anything like this for me," he said.

Started As Newsboy

Leslie has been in newspaper work for 46 years, starting as a newsboy in Uniontown. For the past 21 years he has managed the AP's Harrisburg Bureau.

During the dinner Leslie was given a portable television set from the many friends he made in his quarter century of work in the Harrisburg area.

"I've had enough, I want to go out to pasture." Leslie told the group in explaining his reason for leaving newspaper work.

Began Career In 1910 Several times in the short speaking program, mention was made o Leslie's future with one conviction standing out prominently:

Letters To The Editor

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

The Gettysburg Times Gettysburg. Pennsylvania Attention: Mr. Paul L. Roy.

Each year the Pennsylvania Association. Future Farmers o America honors certain firms and organizations that have made decided contribution to Agricultural Education in the Commonwealth. These firms and organizations are honored by receiving a Citation from the Pennsylvania

It gives us great pleasure to inform you that your organization has been selected to receive this Citation, to be awarded at the Thirtieth Annual Convention, of the Pennsylvania Association, Future Farmers of America, to be held on Wednesday, January 14, 1959, at 1:00 p.m. in the Forum of the Education Building, State Capitol, Harrisburg.

Will you please have some member of your organization present to receive this Citation? If the person representing your organization will present this letter to one of the ushers upon entering the Forum, he will be escorted to a special block of seats reserved for those who will receive this Citation.

We join in congratulating your organization and wishing you success during the coming year.

Sincerely yours, James C. Fink

Mr. Paul Roy, Editor The Gettysburg Times Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

A letter was received recently from Mr. James Fink, State Supervisor of Agriculture Education. Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg. The letter states that the "Gettysburg Times," of which you are the editor, has been selected to receive a "Special Citation" on January 14, 1959, in Harrisburg. This is a high honor and is only given to a very limited number of newspaper publishers. Speaking for the Vo-Ag teachers in my supervisory area, we congratulate you, your reporters and your company for their interest in and promotion of the and FFA activities in my area. You have always covered our news in a most satisfactory manner and given us space in the most desirable area of the Gettysburg Times. In conclusion, we all say "thank you" for your slendid services m publicizing our activities for more than twenty years. We hope that this "Special Citation" will, m a small way, show our appreciation to you, your staff and company for the splendid manner in which you promoted Vocational Agriculture and the Future Farmers of America in this area.

The Book

Englishwoman who likes to write hope to raise $7,500, has passed door campaign, Felix Westline goal of $400. The campaign has hands, little money and few day. gift (a cold eye, a keen ear Scouting to continue in the county Bridge - Middleburg show local plant of uncertain brigin. and an incisive pen), plus a cosmopolitan background, the result might be an exciting new book. At any rate that's how Mary McMinnies came to write The Visitors, the December selection of the Book-of-the-Month

As the wife of a British Foreign Service official, Mrs. McMinnies has lived in many parts of the world, including Lebanon, Greece, Poland, Italy, Malaya and Cyprus. But in fact most of her life, both before and after marriage, has been spent away from England. Her first eight years she lived in India, where she was born of a Quaker family.

Eight Years Schooling Then came eight years of English schooling - four years at a Buckinghamshire school for girls, another four years at a Quaker co-educational school. Thereafter followed a year in Munich to perfect her German and a year at Aix-en-Provence to polish her French. When World War II broke out, she enlisted in the Wrens (British counterpart to the Waves) and later joined up with the Allied Commission to Austria. It was in Austria that she met her husband, and thus began her official peregrinations.

Mrs. McMinnies is no novice in the craft of fiction. Her first novel, written wher, she was 21 was never published. Her second, The Flying Fox, proved to be one of the most highly praised novels of 1957 - "a glittering performance," said one critic, Orville Prescott of The New York Times. Written on a hilltop in central Johore while she and her husband were stationed in Malaya, The Flying Fox concerned the brief and rather dreadful career of a British colonial officer in the fictional district of Telebu, a few motoring hours north of

Though The Visitors was not written "on location," here too Mrs McMinnies has utilized the exciting and varied background of her own life. The "visitors" are a group of British and American diplomats stationed behind the Iron Curtain. Though Mrs. McMinnies calls the country 'Slavonia." its capital "Slavnik and the city which is the scene of most of the action "Grusnov," it will be apparent to the knowledgeable reader that she is writing of Poland, Warsaw and

Her heroine, Milly Purdoe, married to a member of the British mission in "Grusnov," is Flaubert's Emma Bovary wearing modern dress and moving in more sophisticated circles - a woman who has obvious taste and discernment, but in whom there is "quite simply a gap where a moral sense should have been." As fascinating as Milly are a group of others with whom she becomes involved: agents, open and secret, of the new order in Poland; old Polish aristocrats who live in squalor with their pride intact; other members of the British mission to which Milly's husband is assigned; and various diplomats, journalists and professional travelers who happen to pass through the Purdoes'

Visitors has already appeared in England, where its was enthusiastically received. "It would be good to light bonfires and blow trumpets in honor of it," said one London critic, "but there is no need to, really; there's excitement enough in reading it.'

FIRE DESTROYS

Mrs. Emma Huet, 84, was left homeless when fire gutted her 7room frame house near Mt. Union, Md., Tuesday.

The fire apparently started from a defective chimney in a bedroom occupied by a tenant, also an aged person, described as being in his 70's.

The house was owned by Mrs. Huet, who left after the fire to live with a granddaughter in Three fire companies from Union Bridge, New Windsor and Taneytown answered the alarms. A neighbor said the blaze apparently started in the chimney from a wood stove. The house was extensively damaged with its roof caved in and the upper story gutted by the flames. Considerable water damage was also done, it was re-

THE TREE OF LIFE

The world image of the United States as a land of plenty has taken many forms. Time was when eager immigrants expected to see our streets paved with gold. Today, a more poignant version is reported:

In tiny villages of Pakistan, where CARE brings milk for underfed school children, many pupils - and their teachers, too - at first believed the milk powder came from trees in America.

This vision of the U. S. as a place where even milk grows on trees, waiting to flow into CARE packages for the world's hungry, seems most apt as Christmas nears. According to the Bible the Tree of Life in the heavenly Jerusalem has leaves for the healing of the nations. Certainly, the CARE gifts Americans send to despairing peoples help to heal the suffering and tensions that threaten peace.

By joining the current CARE Food Crusade, you can help those leaves to flourish, like a giant Christmas tree that will spread across the earth to nourish the hungry and bear fruits of good will. The U.S. Government gives the food from our farm abundance. Every $1 you give will deliver a 22 lb. package, in your name, to the needy in critical areas of Asia, Europe, the Middle East, Latin America. The place to mail your dollars is: CARE Food Crusade, c/o Lit Bros., 8th and Market, Philadelphia.
